Dedication

The 1999 yearbook staff is pleased to dedicate this year's Proctorian to Paul Wager. A graduate of the University of Arizona, Mr. Wager is in his twenty-sixth year as a physical education teacher at Proctor. While here he has also taught health, coached soccer and basketball, and served as a senior class adviser for more than ten years. Mr. Wager is always willing to help with any school activities, giving countless amounts of his personal time and money to support students and their activities. He is more than just a teacher to his students, but also a friend. He is dedicated to his family as well, and we are lucky that they have been willing to share him with us. He is an asset to Proctor High School and it is with pride that we honor him with this dedication.

Exchange Students

Anne Gorke

My name is Anne Gorke, and I am a German exchange student here at Proctor High School for the first semester. Actually I just took part in GAPP 1998. The American GAPP group visited Germany in June, and I made new friends. I met Brooke Jaquith who invited me to spend time at her house. So we had a busy summer to get all of the papers needed and... here I am.

I like Proctor very much. School here is different, but in a positive way. I enjoy staying with my "American Family." I'm looking forward to playing basketball in school and going snowboarding in the winter.

I am very glad that I made the decision to come here for a semester, and I'm sure that this is one of the best things that I could do.

Sebastian "Sebas" Montoya

My time in America started August 1 when I arrived in Albany. My route was General Vellegas (my town)- Buenos Aires- Miami- Chicago- Albany where my first host family, the Perkins, were waiting to take me to Proctor, Vermont my new home town. Later in the year I moved to the Aults.

I'm here for a year as a Rotary Exchange Student, and I enjoy this part of America, although my image of the United States was always of big cities like New York, Los Angeles, or Hollywood- which are definitely different from Vermont. I'm glad to learn about this part of the country that so few Argentinians know. A lot of things are different between the life in this town and my city in Argentina from the houses to the food to the school.

I have visited a lot of places here. My American family, the Perkins, took me to New Hampshire, the ocean coast and different places in Vermont and I have travelled a lot around Vermont playing soccer with the Phantoms. I also went to Boston with Rotary. I was really excited about this travel because I like to travel and I really want to visit as many places as I can and learn about the different ways of life and wanted to move forward to learn a lot about the different cultures. That is why I came to America. I wanted to move forward to learn a lot about this country, to meet new people and to become more independent. I'm sure I'll remember this year for all my life, and I will remember the things that we did together, people and places, my family, my teachers, and of course my friends. I hope I'll leave good memories for everyone of "Sebas" or Sebastian the Argentinian Exchange student, after I leave.

Hulbert Trip

The Hulbert trip was a positive and powerful experience. Students were challenged in a variety of ways. During team building activities students used leadership skills to strategize demanding problems. The experience culminated in the High Ropes Course; a series of cables stretched across a grove of pine trees, fifty feet above the ground. Students were able to challenge themselves individually to maneuver their way through this often frightening and intimidating activity. According to Peter Bruno, new teacher to the Proctor staff, the Hulbert experience was extremely rewarding. Participants were seventh and eighth grade students who demonstrated positive behavior in the first quarter.

Chaperones were faculty members, Michelle Aftuck, Peter Bruno, Mel Miller, Kay Sanders and parents Randy Ouellette, Mark Thibault and Robert Greene.

Girls' State

Kayce Champine and Desiree Gile.

This summer, Desiree Gile and Kayce Champine attended Green Mt. Girls' State. There they learned how government works and the responsibilities of our leaders. They also learned the kind of teamwork it takes to make government run smoothly.

Peer Leaders is a group of nearly 40 Proctor 9th-12th graders who are committed to an alcohol and drug-free lifestyle and who participate in various projects to promote that goal. They are trained to be supportive and good listeners when peers need a confidant. These skills help many of them to be effective as class officers and in other positions of leadership and community service.

Vermont Writing Competition

The Vermont Honors Writing Competition for Excellence in Writing is sponsored by the University of Vermont. The program began fourteen years ago with a donation from Stuart Martin, the President of WCAX television. Intended to encourage and inspire excellence in writing, it includes participation from sixty-five schools. The finalists from each regional competition compete at the state level. This year, the young writers chosen to compete statewide in the Vermont Writing Competition were Senior: Jamal Williams, Junior: Shelley Ouellette, Sophomore: Scott Allenby, and Freshman: Kaci Stanley.

Proctorian '99

The Proctorian staff, successfully published the 1999 yearbook. This year's staff includes more underclassmen and provides the Proctorian with a broader perspective. Their experience should be helpful to future yearbooks. The staff appreciates the support of the residents and businesses in Proctor and the Rutland area.

Proctor High School Band

The 66 member, PHS band works hard performing at many different events including holiday and spring concerts. They had a great time performing "YMCA" in the annual Halloween Parade. They also marched in the Loyalty Day, Memorial Day, and All-State Parades. Individual members of the band auditioned for the District, All-State, and All-New England Music Festivals. In May, the band participated in an exciting national competition in Annapolis, Maryland.

The Proctor High School chorus is learning an array of music this year including Spanish, French, and English songs. The chorus performs at the Holiday and Spring concerts, and sings the national anthem at varsity basketball games. Individual members of the chorus auditioned for the District, All-State, and All-New England Music Festivals.

Proctor High School's Jazz Band, under the direction of Mrs. Toner, worked very hard to learn difficult pieces this year. All participants put in a great effort and made this small group exceptional. Members enjoy playing Big Band Era music and enjoy performing at the Holiday and Spring Concerts.

The Madrigals are a select group of exceptional students who perform at the Holiday and Spring concerts. They perform a variety of music ranging from traditional music of the 1600's, which are songs called "Madrigals," to arrangements of pieces which include Celtic and English folk songs. They sing without accompaniment.

This years' flag squad put together a great routine to the theme of "YMCA" for the Halloween parade. They also participated in the Loyalty, All-State, and Memorial Day Parades. They are a great addition to the marching band.

Junior High Peer Prevention

A committed group of energetic and caring students in the 7th and 8th grades participated in the Jr. High Peer Prevention group this year. In JHP, students have opportunities to run a meeting, get to know themselves better and bond with a group of peers with leadership goals. Activities have included mask-making, community service, a field trip to the Teen Leadership Conference, and preparation for the Honor Society Reception. Their advisor is Michelle Aftuck.

After a four year hiatus, debate is back at Proctor. In 1998-99, the Phantom fielded a small novice team. The group trained hard in weekly workshops at Rutland High. The debate season is short, from December to early March but competition is keen and requires sincere effort in preparation. This year's debate resolution required that the team become deeply aware of broad areas of American foreign policy as it relates to Russia. Members had to prepare to defend two opposite proposals regarding the resolution.

Romeo & Julia

In June of 1998 Mrs. Burke, Mr. Mott and ten students traveled to Germany for the German American Exchange Program. They stayed for over two weeks with their host families in Weimar which is the culture capital of Europe. They all had a memorable time meeting new friends, experiencing a different culture, and seeing many amazing sights they had only seen previously in pictures. They went to school, saw Romeo and Juliet, visited castles, participated in a radio show, took a bike tour, visited the Buchenwald Camp Memorial, and even spent some time in Salzburg, Austria and Munich, Germany. Their exchange partners spent two weeks in Proctor in October. The memories from this experience are ones that the participants will have for a lifetime.

Winter Carnival '99

The week of Winter Carnival included a food drive sponsored by the Student Council, Hat Day, Spirit Day, and Sixties & Seventies Day. Varsity boys' and girls' spirit games were held between Proctor and West Rutland, and Proctor was victorious in both. This year's annual Winter Carnival Day, like last year's, lacked the one main ingredient, snow, but this didn't stop the fun. The day started with a delicious breakfast sponsored by the Sophomore class. This year, due to a lack of ice, ice games were replaced with church games. Held at St. Dominic's, just down the road from the school, the games included soccer and whiffle ball. The outdoor games were limited to kickball, tug of war and a road race. Indoor games included soccer, floor hockey, pins and rims, table tennis, trivia and scattergories. Following the games, all students gathered in the gym for karaoke. Lunch was provided by the Junior class and the Freshmen served pizza all day long. The week ended with the Winter Carnival Dance sponsored by the Senior class. The dance, featured the announcement of the winners and the music of Bobby Dick and the Sundowners.

This year the boys' soccer team made it to the semi-finals where they lost to Rochester. Their final record was 8-9. They missed making the finals by just a couple of goals in the end. However, their season was great and all the boys put forth their best effort. They are looking forward to a great season next year.

1998 Division IV Girls' Soccer Champions

Our Proctor "Lady" Phantoms finally did it this year! They won the Division IV State Championship! They had a strong season and ended with a 13-3-1 record. They have made it to the semi finals the past three years in a row but this year all that hard work definitely paid off. Not only was this year the first time our girls won the finals, but it was also the first time they made it to the championship game. Brooke Jaquith finished off her Senior year of soccer with 19 goals. This was a great achievement for her. The rest of the team also did a spectacular job. Three of the six new freshmen girls were starters. Four graduating seniors, Morgan Urso, Brooke Jaquith, Michelle Bove and Angela Morrow gave their all this season; which was evident during the play-offs. This year has set a pace for "Lady" Phantom Soccer and they are looking forward to next year.

A much needed thank you is extended to Ray Ault. Coach Ault volunteered his time, knowledge, and enthusiasm for the entire season. His presence helped tremendously.

Although it did not have the expected successful season record wise, the team was extremely successful in getting the eighth graders ready for the varsity soccer team as well as bringing the seventh graders to the next level. The program is growing and next season should see several different skill activities.

The Junior High Girls had another successful soccer season. Guided by Coach Ryan in his second year, they finished the season at 8-2-1. Playing a tough schedule with more Division I schools, the girls rose to the occasion. Showing great skills, pride, and determination of never giving up, these girls will be a great addition to the varsity program.

The Junior High Boys showed great improvement over the course of the season. Following the lead of the varsity, they focused on defense and on playing as a team. Coaches Allenby and Hickey predict that if the team's strong work ethic and chemistry continues, Proctor will have some new basketball championship banners to add to the wall of the gym.

The Junior Varsity Girls Basketball team coached by Mike Canty improved all season. This was important going into the annual West Rutland tournament where they placed fourth. Although the team consisted of nine freshman and only two sophomores they worked well together and pulled out a 3-12 record. Coach Canty was especially impressed with the progress of two athletes who were playing basketball for the first time.

Coach Randy Ouellette and Assistant Coach Wayne Clough led the Varsity Girls to a 7-13 record this season. Overcoming the fact that they were young, the girls played a good hard season including games against Div. II MSJ and a four overtime game against Websterville. Coach Ouellette is proud of his young players and hopes they come back next year for an even stronger season. Graduating this year is Michelle Bove. The managers were Brian Wilcox and Chris Stevens.

Boys' Varsity Basketball

Coached by Chris Hughes and Assistant Coach Dick Wilcox the 1998-99 Varsity Boys Basketball team ended the regular season with a 14-6 record. Defeating Craftsbury in the quarterfinals, the Phantoms headed to Barre for the semifinals where they lost to United Christian Academy. This hard working committed team was led by co-captains Brian Hurhula and Caleb Voigt. On the floor Tom LaPorte, Pat Rider and Scott Allenby kept the team going with hard nose defense. Losing only two seniors, Proctor looks forward to a strong season next year.
